Permanent Residency (Referendum) Bill

Debate:

The SPEAKER: we will begin shortly with the permanent residency (referendum) bill, nth reading. does the proposer of the PR(R) wish to take the first call?

The PRIME MINISTER: I pass the talking stick onto mibu.

The DEPUTY PRIME MINISTER: Thank you mr speaker. Firstly, i would like to inform the house that i am now heading the investigation into how we can pass this deadlock regarding this bill within the government. I have decided it would be wise to wait until we have transferred onto discord parliament before we continue. I am intending to table amendments looking into all proposals for how we can move forward soon and i strongly invite the house to share it's ideas and thoughts on what changes to the bill are necessary for it to work.

The SPEAKER: Good idea. Though the speaker should remain neutral on that. Next. anyone want a call. seeing as there are none. shall we adjourn this bill (again).

The DEPUTY PRIME MINISTER: I beg to move that this bill be adjourned until the next session

Question put to the House and agreed on.

The SPEAKER: the PR(R) will continue in a future session

Statute Amendment Bill

Debate:

The SPEAKER: Up next. the statute amendment bill by mibu. the proposer is invited to give the first speech.

The DEPUTY PRIME MINISTER: Thank you mr speaker. Mr Speaker, I am pleased to be able to introduce this bill to the house which will bring some much needed amendments to the Statute Book of WolvHaven by formalising the Senior Moderator rank and allowing for moderators and above to grant citizenship. In addition, this bill will move parliament sessions into discord, effectively making this the very last physical parliament session in WolvHaven history. This bill will act as an opportunity for this house to make its final decision on the proposal and I for one am confident in it's approval. If there is no debate, i shall move to go to a second reading and henceforth proceed to a vote

SilverWolv: president ur lampa la its silverwolv. Ahem. I withdraw. tyms. I have some concerns regarding the method of conduct of parliament in discord. will we be following a set of standard procedures as laid out by a standing orders document, will we be restricting voting to MPs only? there are quite a number of questions that need to be answered and formalised before we shift to a discord parliament. will the minister propose a set of standing orders for the discord parliament so that we will finally have a set standard of procedures to follow by. thank you

The DEPUTY PRIME MINISTER: Thank you Mr Speaker. A set of rules and procedures for discord parliament may be developed separate to this bill. In my opinion we must form a set of procedures from how the discord parliament will work out when it is first conducted. We should develop the standing orders and procedures as the discord parliament is implemented in parallel. Similar in fact to how parliament was developed in the first place. The standard procedures will be derived from how the sessions work out, but of course we will have to form a basic working procedure before we dive into it

SilverWolv: tyms that still leaves a question unanswered. will we be immediately restricting voting to elected MPs only?

The DEPUTY PRIME MINISTER: tyms. Further deliberations would have to be made but in my opinion, due to the much larger risk of an untrustworthy parliament from the much larger accessibility to vote on new laws coupled with the increased accessibility to all MPs to vote, it would be wise of us to take that measure and restrict voting.

SilverWolv: tyms in that case it would be advisable to draft out a base set of standing orders which will dictate the roles & rights individuals have in the discord pment. in which we should delay the 2nd reading vote on this bill to a later session while preparation is being made.

Questions without Notice

The SPEAKER: continuing to questions. does anyone have any questions. None?

---

Motion

Kaden303 Introduce a block lookup service for citizens of the City of WolvHaven , Gardellia and Pangea

The SPEAKER: alright, on to motions. which there is one.is kaden303 online. seeing as he is not. the motion already gazetted is to introduce a block lookup service for citizens if no one wishes to comment on this

SilverWolv: tysms just as a response to the motion being put up. a form of block lookup service is already available and it comes in the form of coreprotect inspect. this lookup service is restricted to members of staff and authorised enforcement for good reason

The PRIME MINISTER: tysms. Coreprotect does not necessarily say who owns the building, rather who built it (if it was within the last 6 months). The proposer of the motion has not really explained how this system would work. If a system like this would become necessary, a database could be created which lists the building code and owner. although that would require a large amount of work.

SilverWolv: tysms in addition to the points raised. a matter of privacy would potentially be of concern. either way, if it is about having a point of contact for the purchase of properties. i am very sure the govt has sth brewing to introduce a more... fluid property market

The PRIME MINISTER: tysms. Even if the database was not to be public, I think for future's sake a database saying who owns what would be good. Fifth Haven is still relatively small/young compared to 4h

The SPEAKER: alright that could be an interesting idea for an upcoming bill

GukkyGukz: well although there is a simple way that we can just use signs to communicate each other. i think this idea should be better if we cope with other systems

The PRIME MINISTER: tysms. I think a building code system has to be implemented either way for naming Worldguard regions

The SPEAKER: anyone else. seeing as there are no further responses. are there any additional motions? No one?

General Debate

The SPEAKER: then we continue to the general debate. any topics or inquiries

SilverWolv: tys i move that we adjourn the session to the next sitting

The SPEAKER: alright. we shall now vote if the house now adjourns

Question put to the House and agreed on.

Parliament dismissed at 14 40.
