Temporary Architect and its Awarding Process Bill

Debate:

The SPEAKER: First bill. Temporary Architect and its Awarding Process Bill.

Ezzo: This bill was introduced in the last parliament. As such, it will be recapped. The bill aims to define Temp Architect, and add allowances and procedures. This bill ensures clarity, legality, and a trackable paper trail.

The PRIME MINISTER: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I strongly agree with the tabling of this bill as it finally and clearly outlines what is required of temps. Currently, the definition of what temps do is not made clear. They run around asking to build in 4h, acting as if it's their own canvas to paint. It's not. So, make it known to them, this is what we expect, this is your responsibilities. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The question is if the house agrees with this bill. Those of the opinion say aye, of the contrary, no.

Contracts Bill

The SPEAKER: Contracts Bill. A bill to adopt a standardized and organized system for the Ministry for Infrastructure to issue contracts for infrastructure.

Mysticlorde: Thank you mr speaker. As minister for infrastructure, I feel that this bill is very organized and brilliant, at the same time there is room for improvement. There can be requirements for who/which company is eligible for the contracts, e.g. if the bidder has a poor record e.g. plagiarizing he will not be given the contract or even cases of grieving and so on SilverWolv: Thank you mr speaker, I would like to kindly implore that the minister work with the person who introduced this bill to implement further clauses, as the bill came from the same party that he is from. In addition, it was mentioned in the previous reading that the bill could be extended to include gardellian infrastructure. To which the reply was that it could be considered. Has the government reached a position on whether or not to amend clause 5a to include Gardellia as well? As of now, it seems like nothing much in the bill has changed since its previous reading.

Mysticlorde: Thank you once again Mr Speaker. and I'd like to thank the member for pointing out that I should cooperate with the proposer to work on the bill together and I will do that. Also, I'm not sure if we have talked on whether to extend the bill to Gardellia. But we will sure discuss about that and hopefully the bill will be amended to include Gardellia as part of the contracts bill. I personally feel that Gardellia can use the contracts system. Wait no it is right now.

y0urs_Tr1y: Is the minister for infrastructure not part of the same party as the proposer for this bill?

Mysticlorde: No I'm not of the same party, but same coalition y0urs_Tr1y: Can someone please explain to me, how it seems as though the minister for infrastructure seems to not have any involvement in this bill or know much about it at all yet the bill clearly states that the minister is an integral part of the contracting process?

Mysticlorde: Thank you mr speaker for the 3rd time. So i'm going to confess. Honestly I hadn't been doing much as minister for infrastructure. I admit, because I've been very busy irl then. But for some reason, minebuilder1223 did the contracts bill and I was aware of it before it was officially submitted. I think he felt that the ministry and I should have an important role in the contracts even though I didn't take part very much in the writing of the bill.

SilverWolv: I move that the second reading for this bill be further extended to the next session as it is apparent that the bill is not ready to be considered by all parties present. Fin.

y0urs_Truly: I move the bill be thrown out entirely until such time as all parties concerned are actually informed.

The SPEAKER: Does the house agree to extend the second reading of this bill to the next session? Those of the opinion say aye, of the contrary, no Question put to the House and agreed on.

The SPEAKER: The immediate question is if the house agrees that the bill be removed from the schedule of the next sitting?

Question put to the House and negated.

Questions without Notice

SilverWolv: Thank you mr speaker, my question is to the minister for infrastructure. He mentioned that he would like to help to do some planning for the gardellian mainlines. May he please update the house on his progress for the planning?

Mysticlorde: well to the member, I have already finished most of the planning and I was ready to show it to him in DMs/Gard chat. I've drawn it out with Adobe Illustrator but he was away that time and for a while I had exams. And afterwards, I forgot to send. Actually wait, I sent a preview of it in general chat but not really that clear enough. But anyway, I will post it on gardellia channel soon but I can first talk about what it is about. So firstly it includes the extension of the yellow and red lines to the north. and in comparison to the member's plans to extend the line to the central station, instead of passing through bytemega's town i believe, it passes through cacklesburg i think. i mean brown line. and there's a new line called the pink line which goes from Shadmark to Lisa Island with a branch to Balmoral from its north and will go along red line till the gardellia community town which seems deserted af. then it will go south. okay this is gonna sound controversial but. it's gonna pass through cities in the middle of nowhere. Including kentucky town and possibly xtremecity. so that people can easily access it and... have a good look (and laugh) at them. I'll post now btw. Fin.

Delfino88: Thank you Mr. speaker. I understood that this pink line is passing through abandoned cities. But when those cities will be deleted, what's the point of having mainline in them? Fin.

Mysticlorde: Thank you mr speaker, i'll have to say this quick as i'm going off soon but the thing is delfino, not every abandoned city. it'll in general go down straight south and no you're wrong there will still be a point the stations will not be cleared. and there will be more stations than the abandoned claims fin. and gtg bye.

SilverWolv: thank you mr speaker, I move that the house take note of this statement. Parliament session rules applies to those in discord chat as well. If it looks like it is in session, don't interrupt. Nobody cares if you care or not. Rules are rules. They exist for a reason. Be more considerate towards those who are participating in the debate. I will be revoking the verified role of any individual who purposely intentionally interrupts parl. from discord chat. The least one can do is to not interrupt or disrupt whatever is going on. Jolly well don't abuse the functionality. Fin. k u can dismiss now. fuck off.

Parliament adjourned at 15 11.
